U.S. Troopers Now Locked in 'Vicious' Fight

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Troops of the 101st Airborne were reported locked in "vicious" fighting today with an unknown number of Viet Cong in mountainous country north-east of An Khe, a U.S. military spokesman said.

The fighting began shortly after elements of the 101st began an operation this morning, the spokesman said. The fighting raged throughout the day, he said, and at mid-afternoon was termed heavy.

No indication was given of the number of U.S. paratroopers involved, but casualties were officially described as light.

The spokesman said the Viet Cong opened up with vicious small arms attack shortly after the paratroopers were lifted into the area by helicopter.

Elements of the 101st have been conducting daily actions in the An Khe area, where the 1st Cavalry Division is. Patrols, have fought light engagements previously with the Viet Cong in the region, but they have not met with larger than platoon-size units.

In air action, 173 sorties were reported flown in the country late Friday and early Saturday. A briefing officer said 87 planes carried out missions over North Viet Nam and one of them, an F105, was shot down by ground fire Friday. No parachute was sighted and the search and rescue effort has been ended.

South Vietnamese military officials said today unidentified planes, believed to have been American, bombed the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam Friday.

Seven South Vietnamese were killed and 30 others were either killed or wounded in the raid, the officials said. It was the second bombing of the zone in two days.

The sources said there was no positive identification of the four planes which made the raid.

U.S. authorities have confirmed that an attack was made Thursday by American planes against the north side of the zone. Three North Vietnamese were killed.

Friday's raid was against the south end of the zone. Officials said the seven dead were South Vietnamese policemen and 20 of the other casualties were described as their dependents.

Military activity is forbidden in the zone under the 1954 Geneva agreements which ended the French-Indochina war.

A U.S. military spokesman gave no explanation for the latest bombing. He said the first raid could be "assumed to be in error." No results have been reported from an investigation of that incident.

Viet Red Sees Lengthy War

Door Slammed On Negotiations

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A pro-Peking leader of North Viet Nam has warned his country that peace with the Americans is unlikely and a long war is ahead. He has hinted that North Viet Nam may be more deeply and directly involved in the war in the South.

This comes from Trong Chinh, a Communist Politburo member who has been regarded as a possible successor to Ho Chi Minh. He is an ardent admirer of Red China's Mao Tse-tung.

Truong suggests escalation may be met with escalation.

In an article published recently in Hanoi, he says:

"In the future, if the U.S. imperialists continue to escalate in expanding the war to the North, we will rely on the facts of the situation to indicate the new concrete objectives and requirements for the North Vietnamese revolutionary war."

In the context of the article this could be taken to mean more direct support of the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam.

Truong slammed the door on any negotiations unless preceded by total U.S. withdrawals. He complained that U.S. proposals for talks, if accepted, would mean Viet Nam would remain divided a long time and "the North Vietnamese people will not be allowed to support their South Vietnamese compatriots in patriotic struggle."

In the article, Truong says the "concrete and objective requirements" ahead are to defeat the Americans, to bring down their aircraft over North Viet Nam, and to give "positive support to the South Vietnamese compatriots in their liberation war."

195,000 Acres Are Lost In California Brush Fire

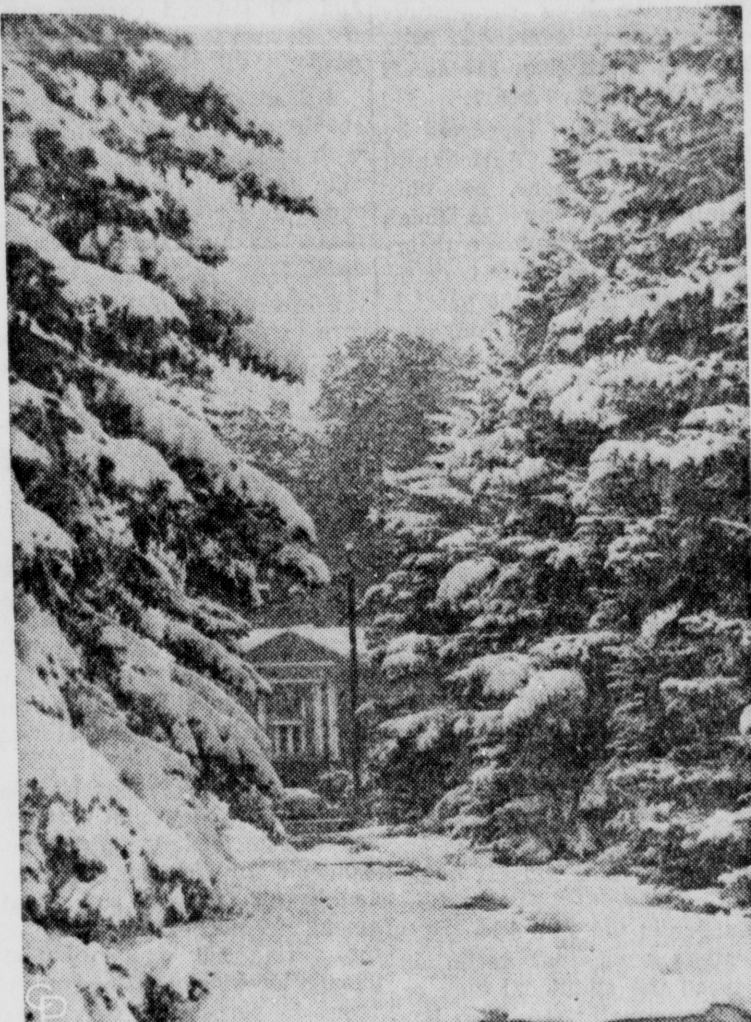

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California state forestry spokesmen say fires that have burned 195,000 acres in Northern California and killed one fireman should be checked by tonight if the weather man gives them a break.

By today, 5,000 fire fighters had controlled more than three-fourths of burning grass, brush and woodland areas in the 19 affected counties.

The towns of Auburn, Middletown and Vacaville, earlier threatened, were also reported out of danger. Forestry officials say the stricken area exceeds the area of last year's disastrous Northern California blazes.

Officials said damage would be "in the millions." At least one person, a volunteer fireman from Latrone, was dead. More than 250 rural-area barns, sheds and homes were badly burned or destroyed.

"We've had erratic winds but conditions improved yesterday, and barring unforeseen incidents we should be in real good

Snow disregarded the summer season this morning, piling to nearly two feet in Tawling, Wyo., where the most vicious September snowstorm on record has marooned almost 5,000 travelers.

Spurred by driving winds, the snow spread through southern Wyoming, the northern Rockies and northwestern Colorado. Some 23 inches lay on the ground at Rawlins in the early morning, following a three-inch fall between 6 p.m. and midnight Friday.

Thirteen inches of snow covered the ground at Lander in west central Wyoming and Rock Springs in southwestern Wyoming.

The Weather Bureau said the storm, which it earlier called "the worst early season snowstorm in the history of the West," showed signs of flagging. Hazardous driving and heavy snow warnings stayed up.

Thousands of motorists holed up in Rawlins, a town of 9,000 along the Continental Divide when the snow mounted in impassable drifts along U.S. 30 Thursday night.

A few got out Friday morning before a new blizzard blew in, shutting down the 220 miles of highway connecting Rock Springs and Laramie.

Peking Claims Border Crossed

New Delhi Asks
U.S. Aid, Report

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Communist China made a new charge of border violations by India today, a day after it demanded that India pull out of a disputed area near Sikkim within three days.

The new violations were said to have occurred in Sikkim Province, about 1,000 miles west of Sikkim, Sept. 11 and 16.

The official New China News Agency said in a broadcast the Indians "intruded into China's territory of Sikkim . . . for military provocations."

The mountainous border between the two Asian nations has never been clearly marked. Peking does not recognize much of the border, claiming it was imposed by Britain when she ruled India and China was weak.

The news agency said Chinese authorities "have enhanced their vigilance" in the Sikkim border area, located north of the disputed Kashmir region between India and Pakistan.

The Indian Defense Ministry said today Red Chinese troops have moved closer to the border in two widely separated areas—Ladakh, in India's northwest, and Sikkim, at least 670 miles to the southeast.

The spokesman in New Delhi gave no further details. Ladakh is in Indian Kashmir. It was the site of a Chinese attack in 1962.

The current undeclared war between India and Pakistan arose out of the long-standing Kashmir dispute. Peking has voiced support for Pakistan in the war.

China's latest accusation followed its ultimatum for India to dismantle military installations in the Sikkim-Tibet border area within three days or face "grave consequences."

India reportedly has asked for a resumption of U.S. military aid. Arms assistance to both India and Pakistan was cut off two weeks ago after the two started fighting over Kashmir.

Indian Ambassador B. K. Nehru spent 40 minutes with Secretary of State Dean Rusk Friday and there were reports later that he asked for more military supplies.

The ambassador declined to say what he had told Rusk, but he voiced fear of a Chinese attack on his country.

"It certainly is our impression that they are serious about this

Rock-n-Roll Singer Bared as Escapee

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Rock 'n' roll singer David Howard Henderson didn't stop the show at a night club — two detectives did.

Fugitive squad detectives D. E. Brown and J. O. Hull said the 22-year-old singer was wanted for escaping from a Georgia works camp Oct. 24, 1964. They said he had been serving a five-year sentence for auto larceny and receiving stolen goods.

The officers, who found Henderson earlier this week, said he had traveled over most of the country during the past year with rock 'n' roll groups.

President Lauds U.S. Air Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has lauded the Air Force for helping "maintain peace in a troubled world."

Said the President: "Its full and awesome power has yet to be used — a dramatic demonstration of the Air Force's contribution to our national policy of deterrence against aggression."

The praise was contained in a special message read at a banquet of the Air Force Association Friday night. Today is the 18th anniversary of the creation of the Air Force as a separate service.

Glenn Assigned To Lecture Tour

WASHINGTON (AP)—John H. Glenn Jr., the first American to orbit the earth, is being sent to Europe to explain the U.S. space program to various engineering, scientific and educational groups.

Glenn has retired from the Marine Corps but maintains a connection with the space program as a consultant to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. He is going abroad in that capacity, the White House said Friday in announcing the trip.

Beginning with a visit to Munich the first week in October for a world exhibit of transportation and communications, Glenn will go to Berlin, Bremen, London, The Hague, Genoa, Rome, Madrid and Lisbon.

shape by tonight," a forestry official said.

Fire fighters worked to control two of the worst fires. One covered 12,000 acres 12 miles southeast of Redding, about 200 air miles north of San Francisco. The second covered 22,000 acres in Chiles Valley just north of Napa and 50 miles north of San Francisco.

Both, like most of the 30 major blazes, burned through grass, brush and small trees. Northern California's stately and commercially valuable redwoods escaped.

Several homes and ranch buildings were destroyed in Vacaville, and in the Sacramento area.

One fire burned 70,000 acres in Colusa and Glen counties 130 miles north of San Francisco. It was brought under control Friday evening.

Lake, Napa and Sonoma counties, in the state's wine-producing belt, bore the brunt, with some 100,000 acres devastated — about half the state total.

Peking Claims Border Crossed

New Delhi Asks
U.S. Aid, Report

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Communist China made a new charge of border violations by India today, a day after it demanded that India pull out of a disputed area near Sikkim within three days.

The new violations were said to have occurred in Sinking Province, about 1,000 miles west of Sikkim, Sept. 11 and 16.

The official New China News Agency said in a broadcast the Indians "intruded into China's territory of Sinking . . . for military provocations."

The mountainous border between the two Asian nations has never been clearly marked. Peking does not recognize much of the border, claiming it was imposed by Britain when she ruled India and China was weak.

The news agency said Chinese authorities "have enhanced their vigilance" in the Sinking border area, located north of the disputed Kashmir region between India and Pakistan.

The Indian Defense Ministry said today Red Chinese troops have moved closer to the border in two widely separated areas—Ladakh, in India's northwest, and Sikkim, at least 670 miles to the southeast.

The spokesman in New Delhi gave no further details. Ladakh is in Indian Kashmir. It was the site of a Chinese attack in 1962.

The current undeclared war between India and Pakistan arose out of the long-standing Kashmir dispute. Peking has voiced support for Pakistan in the war.

China's latest accusation followed its ultimatum for India to dismantle military installations in the Sikkim-Tibet border area within three days or face "grave consequences."

India reportedly has asked for a resumption of U.S. military aid. Arms assistance to both India and Pakistan was cut off two weeks ago after the two started fighting over Kashmir.

Indian Ambassador B. K. Nehru spent 40 minutes with Secretary of State Dean Rusk Friday and there were reports later that he asked for more military supplies.

The ambassador declined to say what he had told Rusk, but he voiced fear of a Chinese attack on his country.

"It certainly is our impression that they are serious about this (Continued on Page 10)

Rock-n-Roll Singer Bared as Escapee

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Rock 'n' roll singer David Howard Henderson didn't stop the show at a night club — two detectives did.

Fugitive squad detectives D. E. Brown and J. O. Hull said the 22-year-old singer was wanted for escaping from a Georgia works camp Oct. 24, 1964. They said he had been serving a five-year sentence for auto larceny and receiving stolen goods.

The officers, who found Henderson earlier this week, said he had traveled over most of the country during the past year with rock 'n' roll groups.

President Lauds U.S. Air Force

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has lauded the Air Force for helping "maintain peace in a troubled world."

Said the President: "Its full and awesome power has yet to be used — a dramatic demonstration of the Air Force's contribution to our national policy of deterrence against aggression."

The praise was contained in a special message read at a banquet of the Air Force Association Friday night. Today is the 18th anniversary of the creation of the Air Force as a separate service.

Experiments Prove Paste Feeding of Pigs Practical

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Pigs gained rapidly and efficiently on paste feed in experiments at the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center in Wooster, according to Dr. Warren L. Roller. He was among 11 research scientists and Extension Service specialists who spoke on Agronomy-Swine Day at the Research Center's Western Branch near South Charleston Thursday.

Dr. Roller reported results of feeding trials to evaluate performance of finishing pigs with rations in paste or dry form and to analyze engineering problems involved in paste feeding. Paste feed used in the studies was a complete ration mixed with water to a 60-63 per cent moisture content.

In a trial to compare limited-feeding of dry and paste feed, paste feeding resulted in as rapid and efficient gains as the same quantity of dry feed. In a second trial, performance of paste-fed pigs was superior to that of animals self-fed the dry form.

Detailed carcass analyses showed that animals limited-fed dry rations were leaner than those self-fed. Carcasses from paste-fed pigs were equal or superior to those limited-fed the dry feed, the agricultural engineer said.

NO serious engineering problems were encountered in blending, pumping, metering, and delivery of paste feed, Dr. Roller added.

Pigs can be weaned economically on pasture at 12 pounds or about three weeks of age, Dr. Howard S. Teague, research animal scientist, told the swine producers. Three years' research at the center showed that shelters of baled straw were satisfactory for the early-weaned pigs and that feed required need not be expensive or complex.

Performance of early-weaned pigs was similar to that of pigs weaned at eight weeks of age, Dr. Teague added.

Dr. Teague also reported that research involving more than 1,300 pigs showed that addition of one pound of copper sulfate per ton of complete feed resulted in a significant improvement in rate and efficiency of gain. He said copper had a greater effect on performance during the early portion of the growing-finishing period and was more beneficial in dry lot than on pasture.

Narrow row planting of corn and soybeans increased yields, Dr. D. J. Hoff, agronomy researcher, reported. Ohio studies show that, when operating at a high soil fertility level with an adequate plant population, corn planted in narrow rows can be expected to increase yields 5 to 10 bushels per acre, Dr. Hoff said. Soybean yield increases of 4 to 5 bushels per acre also can be obtained with narrow rows.

The field day program included morning and afternoon tours of research plots. Other subjects discussed during the agronomy tours were herbicides for controlling Canada thistle, tillage practices for corn, soybean varieties, fall vs spring plowing, planting dates for corn and soybeans, and soil insect control. Rotational cross breeding and sow feeding stalls were also covered on the swine tour.

Agronomy-Swine Day was co-sponsored by the Research Center and Ohio Cooperative Extension Service.

Boston Auto Operating Cost Leads Nation

BOSTON (AP) — It costs more to own and operate an automobile in Boston than in any other major city in the United States, a survey by an auto owners' organization says.

The survey by the Automobile Legal Association said it costs the 10,000-mile-a-year car owner in Boston 16.18 cents a mile to drive his car, while the same car can be driven in New York for 15.42 cents, and 13.14 in Cleveland, Ohio. The costs were figured for the same car, including insurance, taxes, depreciation, licenses and registration, maintenance and repairs.

All Grain Rations Are Subject of Many Studies

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

All-concentrate finishing rations based on either corn or wheat have been successfully fed in trials at Beltsville, Md., involving more than 250 steers over the past five years.

The ARS trials, supported by studies at State Agricultural Experiment Stations, not only show practical ways to finish cattle but also challenge theories that have influenced cattle feeding practices in the past: 1. That cattle require roughage for health and efficient growth; 2. That minerals found in hay must be added to finishing rations; 3. That vegetable proteins are superior to synthetic urea; 4. That wheat cannot be fed as the major source of carbohydrates.

Beltsville scientists R. R. Olden, R. E. Davis, and James Bond fed several lots of yearling steers on all-grain corn finishing ration for about 16 weeks to slaughter weights of 900 to 1,100 pounds. The steers maintained good health, gained rapidly, converted feed efficiently — and produced carcasses of acceptable market quality.

Earlier in the studies, the scientists found that cattle do not need the additional bulk or roughage usually fed. Two lots of yearlings were fed free choice on like rations of corn-plus-supplements except that 1/2 of the animals also received cobs ground and mixed with the ration for bulk. Cattle receiving the ration with cobs added ate just enough more to get the same amount of grain eaten by the group on the all-grain ration. Growth rate and carcass grades were similar.

The scientists knew that certain minerals usually obtained from hay are lacking in the high-grain rations, so they fed zinc- or steamed bonemeal as supplements. Neither, however, gave any benefit. To further test the need of additional minerals, they added a buffering mixture of calcium and potassium carbonates and magnesium sulfate to the all-grain rations to obtain a favorable ruminal pH. This mineral combination (1) had little effect on gain and feed efficiency, (2) caused the only cases of bloat, and (3) lowered carcass quality an average of one-third of a grade.

Although vegetable protein supplements are traditional with cattle feeders, the Beltsville researchers found urea equal to soybean meal when measured by animal performance.

Wheat was substituted for corn in the finishing ration fed other groups of steers. Rate of gain and feed efficiency were reduced when wheat comprised more than 60 percent of the total ration. Cattle fed an all-corn ration gained 3.1 pounds daily, compared with 2.6 pounds for cattle fed an all-wheat ration. Although corn was a superior feed grain in these tests, wheat contains more protein and therefore requires less protein supplement. And wheat sometimes is cheaper, as was the case in 1964.

The Beltsville research also questions the viewpoint that all-concentrate feeding may be responsible for founder, kidney, and liver diseases, and bloat among feedlot cattle. None of the grain-fed steers had founder or kidney lesions. Only about 15 percent of the livers were condemned — far fewer than the 40 to 80 percent reported by some feeders. And except for occasional instances, bloat occurred only in steers fed buffers.

Prospects Bright For Farm Review

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,

Final arrangements are in progress for an Ohio State Farm Science Review which promises to break all records.

Bigger crowds, more exhibitors with more equipment and farm supplies, additional demonstrations, better transportation facilities — these are the terms which Review Officials are using to describe this year's big farm show, scheduled for September 29 through October 1 at Don Scott airfield in northwest Franklin County.

Dale Friday, review manager, estimates total attendance for the three-day event will be between 75 and 100,000, providing the weather is favorable, compared to the 60,000 visitors who saw the review last year. Number of tickets consigned is up 20 per cent from that of a year ago.

Commercial exhibitors total 157, compared to 137 last year and 118 two years ago, the first year for the review. They will bring to the review more than 3 1/2 million dollars worth of farm machinery, implements, and supplies, most of it to be displayed in a 30-acre tract near the center of the Review grounds. In adjacent fields, manufacturers will put nearly 100 different machines into operation.

TRANSPORTATION facilities are doubled over those of a year ago, with 24 new custom-built wagons added to the fleet of tractor-drawn vehicles. Twenty-six other shuttlebuses or wagons will be supplied by the Ohio Expositions Commission and a farm equipment manufacturer.

Poles to carry electrical lines to the area already have been erected, Friday reports, and sign holders are going up on the hundreds of demonstration plots. Exhibitors will begin moving in equipment and setting up tents on Sept. 22.

Review sponsors are the Ohio State University, the Ohio Cooperative Extension Service, the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center, and the Ohio Expositions Commission.

COCKEYSVILLE, Md. (AP) — You know those electronic targets that are so popular in penny arcades? The Army soon will be using similar devices to make war games more realistic.

The units, to be used by infantrymen, tanks and artillery, employ a technique called electro-optics, a combination of infrared light and radio frequency.

Developed by Aircraft Armaments, Inc., of Cockeysville, the units are designed to fill the gap between live-fire training and combat.

Each infantryman using a simulator would have a transmitting unit on his helmet and a receiver attached to his rifle.

The rifleman fires as he would in combat. If his shot is accurate, the victim hears a buzzer and sees a flashing light in his pack.

The attacker can check his own unit to determine how many times he has fired and how many hits he has scored.

Earle S. Jones Jr., a development specialist at Aircraft Armaments, says rifle training in war games and maneuvers is "basically a question of 'bang, you're dead.'"

"Umpires decide if a man has hit his target," he said. "It's strictly a personal opinion."

"The hit indicator would be more accurate in proving the marksmanship of trainees, provide more interest, and increase realism of combat."

For tanks or artillery pieces, a hit would set off a harmless but loud explosive device.

They told India to pull its forces out of a border area claimed by Peking about 1,000 miles away from the Indian-Pakistan fighting or face "grave consequences."

This was a grim reminder to the Indians that Red China had struck hard and suddenly in 1962 and rolled the Indians back at several points in the Himalayas.

This warning from Peking could be interpreted as a further effort to help Pakistan by compelling India to divert even more of its strength to a line between India and China.

But coming so soon after Rusk's warning, it looks more like face-saving.

Citizens Join In Building Road for Kids

LOVELY, Ky. (AP) — For 32 Kentucky children, the path to school in West Virginia is across a narrow railroad bridge or by flatboat across the Tug Fork of the Big Sandy River.

"Some of them have been caught on that bridge by trains," said Shayde Chapman, principal of the Tolan (W.Va.) elementary school which the children attend.

"They had to lie down and let the train pass over them, or get out to the edge of a pier, or, if they were lucky, run off the bridge ahead of the train," he said in an interview.

"Of course, it is just as dangerous crossing the river in boats when it is dark or when the water is up."

This condition has existed for years because there is no road large enough to permit Martin County, Ky., school buses to serve Lovely, a mountain hamlet on the West Virginia-Kentucky border.

But the problem may soon be solved — not by the state, or the county or the federal Appalachia program. Sympathetic citizens have raised funds from individuals and businesses and are giving their time to build an all-weather road.

They started with borrowed bulldozers and graders. During the last three weeks, the county has provided machinery under an agreement that the citizens pay the operator's salaries plus fuel costs.

Jazz Pianist Is Heard in Church Affair

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A sellout crowd of 3,000 — paying up to $25 a seat — toe-tapped and applauded noisily as jazz pianist Duke Ellington played his form of church music in Grace Cathedral.

The Negro musician, saying "God has blessed" his career, played Thursday night for an audience which included the Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, Episcopal bishop of California, and members of San Francisco society.

"Duke Ellington has been endowed by God with the gift of genius," said the Very Rev. Julian Bartlett, dean of the Episcopal Cathedral on Nob Hill. "He and his company of artists make an offering to God of this concert."

Ellington, 66, played on a simple, temporary wooden platform behind the cathedral's impressive stone altar. He called the performance his "most important statement."

Ellington was backed by a group of 20, many of them jazz stars in their own right, such as Harry Carney, baritone saxophone; Paul Gonsalves, tenor saxophone; and Louie Bellson, drums. The group included vocalists and a dancer.

Most of the selections were Ellington's own compositions including "New World a' Comin'," the hit of the evening; "David Danced Before The Lord With All His Might," and "My People," his musical history of Negro people.

Beauty's Mom Is Now Coed, Pretty, Too

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — In the American history classroom at the University of Missouri it was easy to spot the mother of Miss America. Not because she was older than the others, but — wow.

Mama is a knockout. At 43, the mother of two children, Irene Bryant has a figure that could rival that of her daughter — Miss America of 1966. And those statistics read 36-23-36.

"When I was a freshman at Kansas University in 1939 my sorority asked me to compete in a contest but I didn't win," says Mrs. Bryant. "That was as close as I ever got to a beauty crown. And I've even forgotten what contest it was."

She didn't finish college and last summer, because of a divorce and grown children, she enrolled at the University of Missouri's Kansas City campus.

Mrs. Bryant is finishing work for a bachelor's degree in education. She is a senior and will continue after graduation next summer for a master's in speech pathology.

Miss America wants to be a pediatrician. Mama America wants to do speech therapy with children.

Faints Replace Fights, Physician Believes

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — In a modern society, fainting may have taken the place of fighting or running away, a Philadelphia physician says.

"Women are said to faint at times of great emotion," said Dr. John H. Killough, an associate professor of medicine at Jefferson Medical School. "This may be an appropriate response to a situation in which primitive man would have had to fight or run," he told the Pennsylvania Heart Association.

White House Coordinates Its Public Relations Release Setup

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's aides have passed the word to the administration's corps of public relations men: If there's something to be announced, let the White House know about it first.

The result, a check of Cabinet agencies showed today, is a steady flow of proposed or prepared news releases for appraisal at the White House.

"We want first refusal on anything that should appropriately come from here," one White House assistant said.

But at the same time, he said the White House probably will exercise more selectivity in choosing what will be returned to the executive agencies for release there.

The steam of agency news releases to and through the White House apparently picked up after an August conference which brought agency public affairs officers to the office of Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary.

Johnson stopped in for what a White House assistant described as a pep talk.

At another point, people who were on hand reported, he lectured the public affairs men, demanding a better written flow of announcements about the administration.

He was quoted as saying if that did not come about, he would enlist some high school seniors from Johnson City, Tex., and count on them to do the job.

Officials in the Cabinet agencies and at the White House would not talk for attribution about the stepped-up flow of announcements.

A White House spokesman said the same kind of public relations operation has been conducted in past administrations.

But officials elsewhere in the administration said the effort has been stepped up under Johnson.

At the Pentagon, information office men joke about what some of them have come to call the Pedernales press service.

Pedernales is the name of the river that flows through Johnson's LBJ Ranch in Texas. And when he is there, the stream of White House announcements reaches a peak.

It is a practice that has been followed by presidential press officers for years. Pierre Salinger did it for John F. Kennedy at Hyannis Port, Mass., James C. Hagerty did the same for Dwight D. Eisenhower at Augusta, Ga.

The stream of press releases gives the impression of business as usual or more than usual, during a presidential weekend off.

One Cabinet agency press officer pointed to that background in discussing the topic. But he added that his agency is sending more information for release at the White House than ever before.

He said a White House announcement often attracts more attention than would one issued by the agency involved. A White House official said the same thing.

But another press officer disagreed. He said the increased flow of releases from the White House has kept information out of the hands of specialists covering his agency.

Some major news-producing agencies, among them the Departments of Agriculture, Interior, Commerce and Health, Education and Welfare, send regular weekly summaries of potential news releases to the White House press office.

The reports are screened there, and the announcements that will come from Moyers, in the name of the White House or of Johnson himself, are chosen. Others are returned for release by the departments.

Other agencies report they keep the White House informed of their newsmaking potential on a less formal basis.

One agency's information man said Johnson has relayed word that he does not want to wake up in the morning and read in a newspaper an announcement or report he had not heard first at the White House.

The harvest from this effort reached a peak during Johnson's Labor Day weekend in Texas. The score: 42 news releases in four days.

One batch was so heavy that White House aides had to wheel it into the press room on a baggage cart.

BLOC HEADLINER—Bob Jones, North Carolina Grand Dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, tells some 5,000 persons in a cornfield in Plymouth, N.C., that they must unite into the greatest "bloc vote" group to elect the "right kind" of public officials. A mile away, a Negro rally was being held.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The war between India and Pakistan — with Red China dancing around the edges and now butting in — has become a kind of fantasy, but a somber one.

Warned to keep their nose out by the United States, which they call a paper tiger, the Red Chinese could hardly hope to save face if they obeyed. Besides, they have a big stake in seeing India lose.

Thus, by keeping troops along the northern edge of India, the Chinese have weakened the Indians' ability to fight Pakistan. They have had to divert half their forces to watching the Chinese.

Since democratic India is the ideological rival of authoritarian China in Asia, so long as it survives and prospers, if it prospers, it provides an alternative to communism. This is unendurable for the Chinese.

Therefore, the destruction of India benefits China which, unlike Russia, has a plumped for Pakistan in this war. The Soviets, along with the United States and the United Nations, have wanted a cease-fire to end the fighting.

Pakistan, once considered this country's most fervent ally in Asia, began to cool and turn to China when, after the latter's assault on India in 1962, this country began to arm the Indians.

It had previously armed Pakistan much better. But the population of India outnumbers that of Pakistan by more than 4 to 1. So, if India and Pakistan were ever equally armed, Pakistan wouldn't have much chance.

This is probably the basic reason why Pakistan moved into disputed Kashmir last month — to hit before India got armed any better — and began the fighting, a sort of now-or-never tactic.

But neither India nor Pakistan is equipped for a really long war. Both sides know it. And last week Pakistan must have shocked its Chinese friends by suggesting the United States try to settle things.

Pakistan's President Mohammed Ayub Khan said this country should use its "enormous influence" to bring a settlement because it "has a role to play in this part of the world and ought to play it more positively."

But any further intrusion of the United States in Asia is the last thing the Chinese want and this suggestion by Pakistan must have been a blow to them. What they want is the United States out of Asia altogether.

The White House said President Johnson wants to do anything he can to achieve peace but that he believes the route is through the United Nations.

The United Nations had already sent its secretary-general, U. Thant, to both India and Pakistan in search of a solution and, so far as has been revealed, got very dismal results.

Then Monday Secretary of State Dean Rusk, concerned about the itchy look of the Chinese on the Indian frontier, said "our own advice to Peking would be to stay out and let the (U.N.) Security Council settle it."

With the world looking at them after this rebuff from what they called the paper tiger, the Red Chinese Thursday reacted as if to show the United States it couldn't tell them what to do.

They told India to pull its forces out of a border area claimed by Peking about 1,000 miles away from the Indian-Pakistan fighting or face "grave consequences."

This was a grim reminder to the Indians that Red China had struck hard and suddenly in 1962 and rolled the Indians back at several points in the Himalayas.

This warning from Peking could be interpreted as a further effort to help Pakistan by compelling India to divert even more of its strength to a line between India and China.

But coming so soon after Rusk's warning, it looks more like face-saving.

Penny Arcade Inspires New Army Game

COCKEYSVILLE, Md. (AP) — You know those electronic targets that are so popular in penny arcades? The Army soon will be using similar devices to make war games more realistic.

The units, to be used by infantrymen, tanks and artillery, employ a technique called electro-optics, a combination of infrared light and radio frequency.

Poverty Controversy

The administration's anti-poverty program is back in the congressional frying pan. Clearly it isn't working the way it was supposed to.

Local bickering and political haggling has drained all the oil out of it. Trouble crops up almost daily in the crankcase where the concept of neighborhood control grinds roughly against domination of programs by city officials.

It's beginning to look as if Sargent Shriver may lose one of his two hats in an effort to get the machine running smoothly. Shriver, who heads the Peace Corps, survived an earlier attempt by Republicans to remove him as director of the poverty program.

But now a number of leading Democrats have joined in the criticism. They feel the two jobs are just too much for one man, that Shriver isn't paying enough attention to local community action programs.

Evidence is mounting that in many communities the new programs have been diluted in their effectiveness by political intervention. Serious problems have been reported in Chicago, Los Angeles, New York and other cities. The program should not be allowed to dissolve into a system for handing out political patronage.

Evidence is mounting that Shriver may be forced to go back to using a single hatrack.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — A current guessing game is not whether the economy is going to rise still higher, but just how fast. The rate of growth thus gets prime billing in any announcement.

Some are guessing that the gain will be so small as to all but put the economy on a plateau, something Americans never like. At the other extreme is the expectation that shortly the economy will take so big a spurt that fears of its overheating will cause monetary authorities to crack down and end the era of fairly easy money.

The stock market was playing the guessing game Wednesday.

Auto stocks were bid up on news that new car sales rose 14 per cent in the Sept. 1-10 period over the like period in 1964. That 14 per cent seemed reassuring to some traders who had been holding back for fear that consumers might be tiring of their long auto-buying spree. The stock buyers apparently were betting that the auto industry's sales rate gains could be sustained.

Economists are playing the guessing game, in a different way, when they stress that the important thing about the industrial output figures just announced isn't that the index has chalked up its 10th record in a row, but that the increase is the smallest for any month since April.

At 144.4 per cent of the 1957-59 average the Federal Reserve Board's index of industrial activity is a sizable 8 per cent ahead of August 1964. But economists are stressing that this August the gain was only 0.2 percentage point from the July position.

This strengthens the belief of those who see the rate of growth leveling off in the months just ahead.

Of the same view are the manufacturers who have told the Commerce Department that they expect the rate of gain in their sales and inventories to narrow in the next three months.

They plan to make the smallest buildup in their stocks in two years. The Commerce Department thinks much of this slowdown in buying for inventory will be traceable to the trend to live off steel stocks that were built up under the threat of a steel strike. But apparently labor peace in the steel industry won't be the only reason for going slow on piling up more stocks in general.

Durable goods producers seem to be the most cautious in their predictions for sales in the next three months. Manufacturers' sales have been rising by 2 per cent from quarter to quarter this year. But durable goods makers think their fourth quarter gain will be less than 1 per cent. And this would hold the increase for all manufacturing to 1.4 per cent.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

by LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

My husband works in the shipping department of a large firm. He works under constant pressure and thinks this is the cause of his ulcer of the stomach. Two other men in his department have the same thing. Each one has a different ulcer diet. Why are there so many different kinds of diets for ulcers?

Mrs. L.S., Maryland

Dear Mrs. S: It is characteristic for people to attribute their ulcer to the high tensions of particular businesses. Shipping departments, television and advertising, insurance companies and milk deliveries are widely dispersed occupations that are all called "ulcer producing" businesses. But ulcers of the stomach and intestines also occur in the most placid occupations.

There are many physical and psychological reasons for ulcers. No single business or personality holds the entire key for this complex and distressing illness.

Now about your husband's diet. It has been said about ulcers that they are made worse by "not what you eat but what's eating you." The inner psychological tensions associated with ulcers need as much care and attention as a well-chosen diet.

Actually there are not many different diets for ulcers. There may be some slight variations to suit a particular person. Not all ulcers are alike in all people. Not all ulcers occur in the same place with the same severity. Some ulcers are found in the esophagus, others are in the stomach and the duodenum. For this reason an ulcer diet and ulcer medication should not be passed from one friend to another because it seemed to solve their particular problem.

Since all ulcer patients present individual peculiarities, no one diet can be the perfect diet.

In general there are a few basic rules about all ulcer diets. In order to prevent the stomach from being empty, small regular feedings at frequent intervals become important. When the stomach is empty, there is a greater tendency for pain and spasm. Three meals and three snacks are usually sufficient to prevent the sudden cramps that accompany ulcers of the stomach.

Foods that tend to produce an increase of stomach acid should be avoided. Large quantities of coffee and tea should be avoided. Raw fruit and other mechanically irritating foods like cabbage, coarse cereals and vegetables must be eliminated from the diet. Alcohol in any form must be rigidly restricted. Tobacco has been indicted as an irritant.

The objective of all treatments is to heal the ulcer and keep it healed. Besides the diet there are other important factors. Emotional and physical rest must accompany "stomach rest."

A bland, easily-digested diet that does not contain irritating foods is the basis of a good ulcer regime. Milk, creams, refined cereals, gelatins, cooked strained vegetables are the essence of the diet.

Your husband's physician has chosen a particular diet after a thorough survey of his condition. As the healing of an ulcer progresses, foods are added and subtracted under observation.

Your husband and his colleagues should not trade diets or their tensions.

Now that the Pennsylvania Senate has voted the Great Dane to be that state's official dog we can expect others to follow suit. The pooches picked should, of course, be appropriate ones — like the Chow for Kansas, one of the world's breadbaskets, or the tiny Chihuahua for little Rhode Island.

Mountainous Colorado's choice should be an easy one with the St. Bernard winning in a walk or, rather, climb.

And for Massachusetts the Boston Terrier would seem to be a shoo-in.

However, we visualize some brisk bidding between Texas, Arizona, New Mexico and other western states for the full rights to the picturesque if pesky Coyote.

Movie-conscious Californians might have a slight problem choosing between the German Shepherd (Rin-Tin-Tin) or the Collie (Lassie).

Alaska's choice could be a simple one — the Malamute or sled-pulling pooch.

Some states, instead of picking a state dog, might try changing the spelling of their names — we refer, naturally, to North and South Dakota and the Carolinas.

See where the skateboard craze has reached Europe. Those Alpine slopes should make for pretty rugged going.

A Japanese scientist claims he restored a cat's brain to life after it had been 203 days in deep-freeze. A chilling thought!

Poverty Controversy

The administration's anti-poverty program is back in the congressional frying pan. Clearly it isn't working the way it was supposed to.

Local bickering and political haggling has drained all the oil out of it. Trouble crops up almost daily in the crankcase where the concept of neighborhood control grinds roughly against domination of programs by city officials.

It's beginning to look as if Sargent Shriver may lose one of his two hats in an effort to get the machine to running smoothly. Shriver, who heads the Peace Corps, survived an earlier attempt by Republicans to remove him as director of the poverty program.

But now a number of leading Democrats have joined in the criticism. They feel the two jobs are just too much for one man, that Shriver isn't paying enough attention to local community action programs.

Evidence is mounting that in many communities the new programs have been diluted in their effectiveness by political intervention. Serious problems have been reported in Chicago, Los Angeles, New York and other cities. The program should not be allowed to dissolve into a system for handing out political patronage.

Evidence is mounting that Shriver may be forced to go back to using a single hatrack.

Dems To Make All-Out Effort In 7th District

By REED SMITH
SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Hopeful Democrats are going all out in a nationally watched drive to capture Ohio's 7th District seat held for 27 years by the late Republican Congressman Clarence J. Brown of Blanchester.

With a half-dozen GOP aspirants locked in a free-for-all fight for nomination in Tuesday's special primary, Democrats hope to pick up the pieces in the payoff election Nov. 2 for Brown's unexpired term ending Jan. 3, 1967.

Although the winner should hold an advantage in an expected bid next year for a full term, politicians regard the special election as a possible weathervane for other 1966 political contests.

Brown, who died Aug. 23, was ranking Republican on the House Rules Committee. He was chairman of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft's presidential campaigns and national convention floor manager in former Sen. John W. Bricker's presidential bid in 1944.

Pickaway Grange

John Dowler announced that Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fisher will be delegates from this county to the State Grange Convention. Cards of thanks were read from Mrs. Arthur Swingle for the planter and cards she received after her recent automobile accident. A note was also read from Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McHaffey for the celebration they received honoring them on their 50th wedding anniversary.

The committee meets with the intent of appraising and making recommendations to the OSOA Executive Board concerning any and all potential solutions to the problems confronting optometry in the social and health care field.

T. K. BRUNNER & SON
119 W. Main St.—Est. 1854

Republicans express confidence that Democrats cannot maintain recent strength in the traditionally conservative GOP stronghold embracing the western counties of Clark, Cham-paign, Clinton, Greene, Logan, Madison, Union and Warren.

President Johnson carried the district, except Union County, while taking Ohio from GOP nominee Barry Goldwater in 1964. But Brown won re-election handily that year, although by half the margin of his 1962 plurality.

Only two Democrats have represented the district in Congress since the turn of the century. They were J.C. Post of Washington Court House, 1911-14, and Arthur Aleshire of Springfield, elected in the 1936 Roosevelt landslide.

Election officials estimate that only 20,000 voters may turn out for the primary in the district which has a population of 450,000.

Politicians generally view the Republican primary as a race between Brown's son, Clarence Jr., Urbana publisher and radio station operator, and State Rep. Charles E. Fry, 49, Springfield, former state senator and seasoned campaigner.

Although Brown, 38, has not held public office, friends say he decided long ago to follow in his father's footsteps and made his party contacts accordingly.

Fry, termed "somewhat moderate," was the only Republican on the Clark County ticket to buck the 1964 Democratic sweep winning a seat in the Ohio House.

While serving earlier as state senator, Fry ran second in a four-man contest for the Republican U.S. senatorial nomination in 1962 to gain statewide recognition.

Clark County's eagerness to elect its third congressman in three-score years also favors Fry.

Adding zest to the GOP primary campaign is Lowell (Red) Fess of Yellow Springs, 70, son of the late U.S. Rep. and Sen. Simeon D. Fess.

A former four-term state representative and five-term state senator, Fess resigned from the State Personnel Board of Review to make the race.

Fess stole a march on opponents by renting 76 of the most strategically located billboards in the district for campaign posters and has a motorcade touring the district.

Other aggressive campaigners are three-term State Rep. Sam Landes of London, Madison County; H. Quinn Licklider, 52, Springfield, unsuccessful candidate for the Ohio House in 1962; and John G. Peterson, 47, Xenia, former Greene County prosecutor and GOP chairman. All favor the conservative side.

Albert E. Payne, Springfield industrialist who failed to qualify for the GOP primary, is conducting a "write-in" drive. He made three unsuccessful bids for governor in the 1940s.

Democratic chairmen in the district endorsed Clark County Prosecutor James A. Berry, 35, for the nomination.

Joseph Sheridan, 28, of Fairborn, president of a firm planning a Springfield TV station, also filed to make it a two-way contest. He campaigned in the East for both the late President John F. Kennedy and for Johnson.

Both Democratic candidates shied away from either liberal or conservative labels.

SOAKED, BUT PROUD—Jane Holster, 20, a University of Illinois coed, laughs proudly as she emerges from a shower stall in Chicago after setting a record for the longest shower taken by a woman—72 hours and 8 minutes. Pat Rubenstein, a University of Colorado student, held the previous record—64 hours and 11 minutes.

Views on TV - Radio

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The truth is that Bob Barker will have to face the consequences next Friday.

That's the day that "Truth or Consequences" goes off daytime television, leaving Barker unemployed for the first time in nine years. His reaction?

"I'm exhilarated," said the lanky emcee. "I'm making new plans and talking to new people about new shows. In the future I may look back on 'Truth or Consequences' as the high point of my career. But right now I'm feeling great."

Ralph Edwards, the originator and custodian of "T or C," isn't convinced that this is the end of the line for the show, Barker added. Edwards, a devout optimist, may have good reason for his hope. After all, the show survived 26 years in broadcasting, moving from radio to nighttime television to the daytime spot it occupied on NBC.

For Barker, the end of "T or C" will mark the close of what had become a way of life. Every week of the year, minus vacations, he reported to the show. He missed none of the 2,400 programs — "I even managed to be sick on the weekends only."

That amounts to a lot of stunts, a lot of frivolity. What does he remember out of all of it?

"The people," he said. "Putting a man in a satellite isn't important. The impressions that remain with me concern the people we had on the show. Some of them were pretty damned amazing."

The most touching moment he could recall concerned a basset hound. It seemed that a sailor and his family had been transferred from Florida to California and the budget didn't allow transporting the family dog. The "Truth or Consequences" people heard about it and brought the dog to NBC, where a reunion was arranged with the sailor's 14-year-old son.

"Oh, Mr. Barker, he's the best dog in the whole world!" said the boy, and the entire television crew, including Barker, was in tears.

Barker declared that he was on the alert for any surprises on the show. Only once was he floored: when his own mother appeared from behind a curtain, having been flown from her Springfield, Mo., home.

"That showed me how people react to our stunts," the emcee admitted. "From then on I was simpatico with the contestants."

Talented Bands Combine For Gridiron Entertainment

Two talented bands combined to entertain an overflow crowd last night at the Teays Valley-Circleville football game.

The CHS Marching Band made the short trek to Teays Valley along with the football team and joined the host school musicians for pre-game and halftime festivities. Both units merged for the National Anthem and flag-raising, directed by Truman Eberly of Circleville.

Circleville, led by drum major Lynn Rickey, was first onto the field at halftime for a repeat performance of their "Gridiron Geometry" precision magic.

The Eberly Corps presented various maneuvers to the tune of "Tiger Rag" and other selections. They formed a block C for playing of the "Red and Black."

THE VIKING Band, making its first home appearance of the season, presented a colorful rendition of "Broadway 1965." The precision show included several drill and dance routines.

The Teays Valley musicians are under the direction of John Crumley. Don Balthaser is the head drum major.

Selections offered by the Viking unit included "Hey Look Me Over" from the musical "Wildcat," "Pass Me By" from the picture "Father Goose" and "Hello Dolly" from the musical "Hello Dolly."

Dems To Make All-Out Effort In 7th District

By REED SMITH
SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Hopeful Democrats are going all out in a nationally watched drive to capture Ohio's 7th District seat held for 27 years by the late Republican Congressman Clarence J. Brown of Blanchester.

With a half-dozen GOP aspirants locked in a free-for-all fight for nomination in Tuesday's special primary, Democrats hope to pick up the pieces in the payoff election Nov. 2 for Brown's unexpired term ending Jan. 3, 1967.

Although the winner should hold an advantage in an expected bid next year for a full term, politicians regard the special election as a possible weathervane for other 1966 political contests.

Brown, who died Aug. 23, was ranking Republican on the House Rules Committee. He was chairman of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft's presidential campaigns and national convention floor manager in former Sen. John W. Bricker's presidential bid in 1944.

Republicans express confidence that Democrats cannot maintain recent strength in the traditionally conservative GOP stronghold embracing the western counties of Clark, Champaign, Clinton, Greene, Logan, Madison, Union and Warren.

President Johnson carried the district, except Union County, while taking Ohio from GOP nominee Barry Goldwater in 1964. But Brown won re-election handily that year, although by half the margin of his 1962 plurality.

Only two Democrats have represented the district in Congress since the turn of the century. They were J.C. Post of Washington Court House, 1911-14, and Arthur Aleshire of Springfield, elected in the 1936 Roosevelt landslide.

Election officials estimate that only 20,000 voters may turn out for the primary in the district which has a population of 450,000.

Politicians generally view the Republican primary as a race between Brown's son, Clarence Jr., Urbana publisher and radio station operator, and State Rep. Charles E. Fry, 49, Springfield, former state senator and seasoned campaigner.

Although Brown, 38, has not held public office, friends say he decided long ago to follow in his father's footsteps and made his party contacts accordingly.

Fry, termed "somewhat moderate," was the only Republican on the Clark County ticket to buck the 1964 Democratic sweep winning a seat in the Ohio House.

While serving earlier as state senator, Fry ran second in a four-man contest for the Republican U.S. senatorial nomination in 1962 to gain statewide recognition.

Clark County's eagerness to elect its third congressman in three-score years also favors Fry.

Adding zest to the GOP primary campaign is Lowell (Red) Fess of Yellow Springs, 70, son of the late U.S. Rep. and Sen. Simeon D. Fess.

A former four-term state representative and five-term state senator, Fess resigned from the State Personnel Board of Review to make the race.

Fess stole a march on opponents by renting 76 of the most strategically located billboards in the district for campaign posters and has a motorcade touring the district.

Other aggressive campaigners are three-term State Rep. Sam Landes of London, Madison County; H. Quinn Licklider, 52, Springfield, unsuccessful candidate for the Ohio House in 1962, and John G. Peterson, 47, Xenia, former Greene County prosecutor and GOP chairman. All favor the conservative side.

Albert E. Payne, Springfield industrialist who failed to qualify for the GOP primary, is conducting a "write-in" drive. He made three unsuccessful bids for governor in the 1940s.

Democratic chairmen in the district endorsed Clark County Prosecutor James A. Berry, 35, for the nomination.

Joseph Sheridan, 28, of Fairborn, president of a firm planning a Springfield TV station, also filed to make it a two-way contest. He campaigned in the East for both the late President John F. Kennedy and for Johnson.

Both Democratic candidates shied away from either liberal or conservative labels.

SOAKED, BUT PROUD—Jane Holster, 20, a University of Illinois coed, laughs proudly as she emerges from a shower stall in Chicago after setting a record for the longest shower taken by a woman—72 hours and 8 minutes. Pat Rubenstein, a University of Colorado student, held the previous record—64 hours and 11 minutes.

Views on TV - Radio

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The truth is that Bob Barker will have to face the consequences next Friday.

That's the day that "Truth or Consequences" goes off daytime television, leaving Barker unemployed for the first time in nine years. His reaction?

"I'm exasperated," said the lanky emcee. "I'm making new plans and talking to new people about new shows. In the future I may look back on 'Truth or Consequences' as the high point of my career. But right now I'm feeling great."

Ralph Edwards, the originator and custodian of "T or C," isn't convinced that this is the end of the line for the show. Barker added, Edwards, a devout optimist, may have good reason for his hope. After all, the show survived 26 years in broadcasting, moving from radio to nighttime television to the daytime spot it occupied on NBC.

For Barker, the end of "T or C" will mark the close of what had become a way of life. Every week of the year, minus vacations, he reported to the show. He missed none of the 2,400 programs — "I even managed to be sick on the weekends only."

That amounts to a lot of stunts, a lot of frivolity. What does he remember out of all of it?

"The people," he said. "Putting a man in a satellite isn't important. The impressions that remain with me concern the people we had on the show. Some of them were pretty damned amazing."

The most touching moment he could recall concerned a basket hound. It seemed that a sailor and his family had been transferred from Florida to California and the budget didn't allow transporting the family dog. The "Truth or Consequences" people heard about it and brought the dog to NBC, where a reunion was arranged with the sailor's 14-year-old son.

"Oh, Mr. Barker, he's the best dog in the whole world!" said the boy, and the entire television crew, including Barker, was in tears.

Barker declared that he was on the alert for any surprises on the show. Only once was he floored: when his own mother appeared from behind a curtain, having been flown from her Springfield, Mo., home.

"That showed me how people react to our stunts," the emcee admitted. "From then on I was simpatico with the contestants."

Church Women List Clothing Center Plans

Circleville Council of Church Women held their first fall meeting in the Methodist Church lounge. Mrs. David Whaley conducted the session.

The principal subject of discussion was the status of the Circleville Clothing Center which has been the chief project. It was reported that the room has been open for the distribution of clothing on four occasions.

Children's items are still needed from infants to teenagers. It was decided that since much more adult clothing has remained on the racks that the room would be opened 1 to 3 p. m. Wednesday for the primary purpose of distributing adult items. The room will be open on a regular basis on the first Wednesday of each month, from 1 to 3 p. m. beginning Oct. 6.

Under the system now in operation, clothing will not be distributed without a referral card at the initial visit. However, once a card is on file, it is not necessary to bring another card each time. Referral cards have been given to all of the city and county health and welfare agencies, to the attendance officers of both the city and county schools and to the pastors of the churches represented in the Council of Church Women.

Anyone is welcome to contribute usable clothing and household articles but not large furniture items. Shoes and winter clothing are especially needed. Items may be taken to the Center on the day it is open or for other arrangements you may call at one of the following: Mrs. M. D. Lorentz, GR 4-9064; Mrs. Frank Moore, GR 4-3824, or Mrs. Harry Stanton, GR 4-4463.

Next meeting of the Council will be held 8 p. m. Oct. 11 in St. Phillip's Episcopal Church. All churches of Circleville and of Pickaway County are invited to send a representative.

Dear Abby: Pros and Cons

DEAR ABBY: You offered to help that young girl in trouble find a home for unwed mothers. I sure don't agree with you. That boy should be made to marry that girl and give the baby a name. If he doesn't marry her willingly, the girl's father should get a shotgun and prod him into it. Why should he go free? If he is that kind of a boy he would probably get some other girls in trouble.

A MAN'S OPINION
DEAR MAN: If he is "that kind" of boy, who needs him for a son-in-law? And when "that kind" of boy marries, it doesn't prevent him from getting other girls in trouble.

DEAR ABBY: With regard to "LIVING A NIGHTMARE": The mother of the 15-year-old girl, who got into trouble with a young boy, wrote "he was from such a nice family, we never dreamed our daughter was in danger with him." What about the boy? Our 16-year-old son went with a 15-year-old girl for a few months. One day he came home and told us that he wanted to marry her because he "got her in trouble." We went to the girl's parents and decided against the marriage. It turned out that the girl was far more experienced than our son, so perhaps it was our son who was "in danger." He was from—

ANOTHER NICE FAMILY"

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column about the mother LIVING A NIGHTMARE because her teen-age daughter was unmarried and pregnant. The mother wanted to hide the girl's shame by sending her somewhere to have the baby and give it away.

I lived the same kind of nightmare when my daughter was 15. Only we didn't ship her off anywhere. We made her pay for her sin by staying right at home to face the shame and wagging tongues. It taught her a good lesson. The baby died, which I suppose was the Lord's way of saying that it didn't have a rightful place in the world, anyway. You can bet our daughter never got into any more trouble like that again. She's in her forties and teaches school far away from here. She never married, but she's probably better off.

NOTHING TO HIDE
DEAR NOTHING: In my opinion, your "sin" was greater than hers.

DEAR ABBY: I am appalled at the naivete of parents. The mother whose 15-year-old daughter was in trouble wrote she was "living a nightmare." What did she expect when she let her daughter go steady at 14? She said she never dreamed her daughter was in danger with such a nice boy. It probably never occurred to her that the boy could have been the one who was "in danger," if she's anything like the little sex pots I've seen running around. Little girls nowadays go in training at the age of three to become sex sirens. They are allowed to dress and act sexy. Even their dolls are adult and sexy now. When they reach 13 or 14, who can blame them for practicing what they've been trained for? Then they come home pregnant and mother cries, "I never dreamed this could happen to us." When are parents going to wake up?

Three new members, Mrs. Eugene Crawford, Mrs. Harrison Wolfe and Mrs. H. F. Edwards, were welcomed. There were 43 members present.

Miss Montelius used as her subject, "Art in Flowers." She stated that painting is the same as flower arranging. painters used flowers only as background.

"Europeans rarely selected flowers for painting. Japanese arrangements were restrained using very few flowers. Eastern Orient refined arrangements into art and the Chinese used flowers as symbols."

She went on to say that abstracts became popular in 1953 and concluded by showing colored prints of several arrangements and suggesting several books to read.

Mrs. Robert McCoy conducted a brief business meeting and announced a workshop will be held Oct. 14 in Worthington. She is accepting reservations.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren Pros and Cons

DEAR ABBY: You offered to help that young girl in trouble find a home for unwed mothers. I sure don't agree with you. That boy should be made to marry that girl and give the baby a name. If he doesn't marry her willingly, the girl's father should get a shotgun and prod him into it. Why should he go free? If he is that kind of a boy he would probably get some other girls in trouble.

Tigers Halt Vikings in 46-6 Tilt

CHS Capitalizes On Speed, Power

By STEVE JONES

The rampaging Tigers from Circleville High School rolled up a 46-6 decision over Teays Valley last night on the Viking field, picking up their second win of the season.

Tigers scored almost at will during the first three periods of the game. The Vikings were held without a touchdown until the final 30 seconds.

	C	TV
First downs rushing	13	5
First downs passing	1	2
First downs by penalty	0	1
Total first downs	14	8
Passes attempted	8	13
Passes completed	4	4
Net yards rushing	385	62
Net yards passing	80	41
Total offense	465	103
Interceptions	0	0
Fumbles	4	6
Fumbles lost	3	4
Punts	5	3(28)
Total yards penalties	55	30

The host school's score came with the Circleville third string defensive unit in the game. Second string quarterback Don Daft carried the ball across the goal line for Teays Valley.

Mike Ramey was the leading scorer as he tallied on runs of 3, 17 and 6 yards. Danny Gibbs connected on two touchdown passes, one to Doug Pontious and the other to Tim Stonerock.

HOWARD DADE, the game's leading groundgainer, notched the first Tiger score with a 15-yard run. Steve Richardson, a tackle, picked up a blocked punt in the fourth quarter and raced into the end zone for the final Tiger tally.

Extra points were scored by Steve Dade and Mike Ramey. The Tigers won the toss of the coin at the outset and elected to receive.

On the very first play from scrimmage, Ramey skirted left end and romped 60 yards to the Viking 10-yard line before he was pulled down from behind.

Howard Dade had one touchdown run called back on a 5-yard illegal procedure penalty against the Tigers. But then he carried in from 15 yards out with the game less than a minute old.

A short low kick that followed that touchdown was recovered by a Circleville player on the Viking 25-yard line. On the next play, the Tigers lost a fumble to Teays Valley.

THE VIKINGS were unable to move against the Circleville defense. In the first quarter, they had 24 yards rushing and four passing.

In the second quarter, the Tiger defense held them to one yard rushing and four passing. They had only two first downs — one by rushing and one by pass interference in the first half.

In the third quarter Teays Valley picked up 70 yards on a sparkling kickoff return by Rick Brown who finally was pulled down from behind on the Circleville 10-yard line. However, the Vikings were unable to capitalize on that opportunity as the visitors held for downs.

After the first Circleville score, the Vikings were able to contain the Tiger attack fairly well in the first period.

It ended with the score standing at 6-0. The second quarter saw the Tigers come alive for two touchdowns. The first was scored by Ramey on a three yard plunge, capping a drive that started on the Circleville 43.

The second score of the period came when Gibbs hit Pontious with a pass in the end zone. The play covered 13 yards and climaxed a 50-yard drive.

FOR THE Vikings, the third quarter proved to be almost too much.

In that period the Tigers scored three times. Ramey shrugged off three tacklers in a 17-yard romp across the goal line. He gained 57 yards all told in the drive.

The next time Circleville got the ball the Red and Black went nearly the length of the field in two plays. A 15-yard penalty helped them pick up the touchdown yardage.

Hodgie Dade ran from the Circleville seven to the Teays Valley 39, taking a pitchout from Gibbs and going around right end behind a bevy of blockers.

A personal foul penalty gave the Tigers a first down on the Viking 24 yard stripe.

And Gibbs, the left handed junior quarterback, hit Stonerock with a pass that covered the remaining distance to the goal line. This pushed the score to 32-0.

THE NEXT TD came with just 23 seconds to go in the third quarter. Dade gained 50 yards in a 59 yard drive and Ramey carried the last six. Steve Dade scored the two extra points and the quarter ended with the score, 40-0.

In the final period, the Vikings contained the Circleville third string offense fairly well.

The defense put the rush on Teays Valley punter Richard Hay, blocking the kick, and Richardson never slowed down as he grabbed the blocked punt and headed for pay dirt.

The Teays Valley scoring drive covered 58 yards, with two passes accounting for nearly half the distance.

The rest of the yardage the Vikings ground out on the ground with Daft sneaking over from the one yard line.

It was the third gridiron battle between the Vikings and the Tigers. All three have been won by Circleville.

Tiger Pointers

"We made a lot of mistakes again tonight," Paul Starr, CHS coach said after the game. "We had four touchdowns called back because of penalties."

"We thought Danny Gibbs did a real fine job." He has been out all week with scarlet fever and didn't get to a single practice," Starr explained.

"We were also real proud of sophomore quarterback, Steve Dade. He had some bad luck and was in there when a couple of those touchdowns were called back."

"Our first string defense was terrific," Starr enthused. (In the first three quarters the unit gave up only 44 yards).

"I think they have a real good football team," Starr said of Teays Valley. "They will win some games this year."

The Tiger coach was echoing the thoughts of a Viking assistant, Mark Albright, who said, "We're a lot better than that score."

Last week Teays Valley beat Walnut Ridge, 12-6. The Scots are a member of the tough Columbus City League.

There were more than 3,000 people packed into the TV grid arena. Bleacher capacity there is 3,000 and there was scarcely an empty seat to be found. In addition, many fans lined the field.

Watching last night's game was Jim Shaw, the former Circleville Junior High School Coach.

Stan Spring, Tiger cameraman was up on the press box filming the game. Last week he missed one of the very few games in many years. He was suffering from a touch of the flu.

Next week the Tigers meet Pleasant View, a team favored to win the South Suburban League.

And Coach Starr is still smarting from the defeat the Panthers handed the Tigers last year. "I hope they are on our schedule for a long time to come," Starr said. "I sure want a piece of them."

He feels the Panthers will be one of the best teams Circleville will play this year.

Teays Valley should have another large crowd next week when the Vikings host cross county foe Logan Elm.

Leading groundgainers last night were Howard Dade with 191 yards and Mike Ramey, with 170 yards. Both boys have scored four touchdowns so far.

Indians To Stay For Another Year

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Indians will be in Cleveland for at least another year.

Directors met Friday and took no action to terminate the tribe's lease on Municipal stadium.

The baseball club signed a 10-year lease a year ago, but the pact contains an escape clause, allowing either party to cancel after any season, as long as notice is given by Oct. 1.

Willie Mays' first major league hit was a home run off Warren Spahn in 1951. Fourteen years later the two became San Francisco teammates.

STONEROCK RAMBLES — Tim Stonerock (74) returned a Viking punt 82 yards across the goal line last night, only to have the excellent play nullified by a clipping penalty against the Tigers. Blocking for Stonerock is Gary Hughes (80). Teays Valley defenders are Tim Wells (23) and Mike Lombardo (84). (Photos by Beaver Studio)

THE DADE GALLOP — Hodgie Dade (49) was the leading ground-gainer for the Circleville Tigers last night. He ran for one touchdown and 191 yards in the game. Mike Wells (75) is blocking out the Vikings' Lombardo to clear the way for Dade on one of his long runs.

Browns To Defend Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cleveland's powerful Browns open their drive for a second straight National Football League championship Sunday, setting out to prove that Dec. 27, 1964, was no fluke.

On that day in Cleveland Stadium, the Browns overwhelmed the favored Baltimore Colts 27-0 for the league title. Apparently, the lopsided victory didn't convince too many experts.

The Browns start the 46th NFL season no more than favorites with the St. Louis Cardinals for the Eastern title.

And when it comes to the 1965 league crown, most of the seers believe it will go to the West — probably to the Green Bay Packers, maybe to the Colts, possibly to the Minnesota Vikings.

Cleveland's opening shot is against a tough one, the Redskins at Washington. Also on Sunday's schedule — the Cardinals against the Eagles at Philadelphia, the Colts against the Vikings at Baltimore, the Packers against the Steelers at Pittsburgh, the Los Angeles Rams vs. the Lions at Detroit, the Chicago Bears vs. the 49ers at San Francisco, and the New York Giants vs. the Cowboys at Dallas.

"We will go with experience."

With those words Coach Weeb Ewbank of the New York Jets tapped sophomore quarterback Mike Taliaferro to start in tonight's American Football League game against Kansas City and again related $400,000 rookie Joe Namath to the telephones.

The Jets' opener kicks off the second week of action in the league.

Three games will be played Sunday — Buffalo at Denver, San Diego at Oakland and Boston at Houston.

Ewbank, in making his selection of Taliaferro despite the fact the young signal-caller completed only four of 22 passes in a 27-21 loss to Houston last week, emphasized that "the basis is merely experience."

The Buffalo-Denver game headlines the Sunday program with Cookie Gilchrist and Billy Joe, who swapped teams in the top off-season trade, meeting for the first time since Gilchrist joined the Broncos and Joe went to the Bills.

The Bills opened defense of their AFL championship by beating Boston 24-7 last week with Jackie Kemp at quarterback. Joe gained 34 yards in nine attempts. Gilchrist gained 49 yards in 17 tries as he led a revitalized Bronco offense that picked up 330 yards in a 34-31 loss to San Diego.

After 64 Defeats, Team Finally Wins

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Youngstown North, which hadn't won a victory in 64 games, finally broke the spell Friday night and downed Columbus 14-8.

It was North's first game under coach John Martinko.

Unioto Tops Westfall, 24-0

Tim Borland paced Unioto to a 24-0 win over Westfall last night on Chillicothe's Herrnstein Field. He scored three touchdowns, including one TD run of 70 yards.

The other score for the Shermans came on a Jim Echar to Mike Borland pass.

Westfall was never able to get moving against the winners. Dee Mayf, defensive safety for the Shermans, came up with two key pass interceptions to thwart the Mustang offense.

Charlie Coe Holds Lead In Amateur

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Charlie Coe played it like the crafty, patient hunter he is. He just sat there and let his quarry come to him. And then, one by one, he shot 'em down.

He methodically grinned down Walker Cupper Don Allen of Rochester, N.Y., and patiently bided his time until defending champion Bill Campbell and collegians Bob Murphy and Jim Grant drifted back. And they went by, too.

And when the wind and the rain and the gnashing of teeth was over the lean and leathery Oklahoman was in sole possession of first place going into today's final 18 hole round of the National Amateur Golf championship.

He's taken the spot with careful, conservative game that has become his trademark. He hasn't matched par 71 yet with rounds of 73-72-72 for 217 and a one-stroke lead over three college boys, Murphy from the University of Florida, Grant from the University of Houston, and Bob Dickson from Oklahoma State.

Grant finished with a 74, Murphy a 76 and Dickson a 72 for 218. Campbell, from Huntington, W. Va., had a 75 and a tie with Jim Vickers, Wichita, Kan., and Cesar Sanudo, El Cajon, Calif., at 219. Allen was alone at 220.

FSB Starting New Program For Athletics

The Fairfield School for Boys is starting a football program this year.

John Yates, who was coached previous teams at the institution to 20 wins, 7 losses and two ties, has accepted the task of rebuilding a football program at the school.

A new lighted football field has been installed and the team will schedule games both at home and away.

In addition to football, a comprehensive interscholastic athletic program is planned. The school will participate in basketball, track, baseball, wrestling and swimming.

Any school interested in scheduling FSB in any of the major sports this year or for the 1966-67 season may contact H. T. Cowell, superintendent, or Yates, at the school.

Gridders Burned; Game Called Off

WILLIAMSBURG, Ohio (AP) — A mix-up by the grounds crew apparently caused the calling of the Williamsburg-Kings Mills high school football game Friday night after members of both teams suffered painful burns.

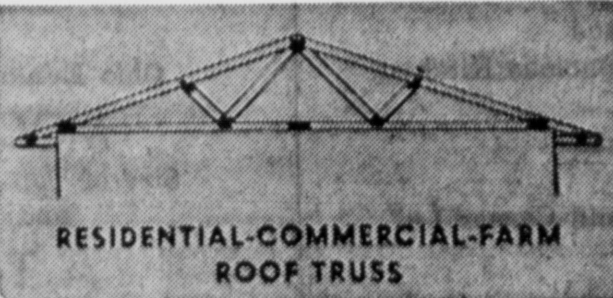

David Bechtel, principal of Williamsburg High School, said he was told the grounds crew may have scattered the wrong kind of lime on the rain-soaked turf.

Most of the players on both teams suffered burns.

Williamsburg was leading 20-0 when the game was called after two quarters.

Observers said hydrated lime, which is used routinely on farms, is relatively harmless but that quicklime, which is quite similar to it, can cause painful burns.

Logan Elm, Aces Battle to 8-8 Football Deadlock

STRAWSER MOVES — Roy Strawser (17), who gained 51 yards for Logan Elm last night, moves around his own right end for a short gain. The Braves battled to an 8-8 tie with Amanda-Clearcreek. (Photo by Logan Elm Annual Staff)

Logan Elm's offense finally came of age in the fourth quarter last night as the Braves deadlocked visiting Amanda-Clearcreek, 8-8.

The Braves, with a total of 175 yards gained in the game, ground out 100 of them in the final two periods.

And trailing, 8-0, as the final frame began, they rammed the ball up the middle for 50 yards on 11 plays and a touchdown.

Jim Moorehead, a junior running back in the Braves' attack, carried the ball 10 of the 11 times, and scored the touchdown. Ken Palmer added the extra points.

MOOREHEAD outgained the entire Amanda team on the ground. He was credited with 91 yards rushing. And 72 of this total came in the second half.

Roy Strawser's 51 yards also bettered the 50 yards rushing compiled by Amanda.

The Logan Elm defense effectively contained the highly touted junior halfback from Amanda, Gary Young. However, Young did score the Aces' touchdown.

"Our defensive line looked real good," Jim Colville reported after the game. They held Amanda on the ground and kept good pressure on their passer."

"Alan Gabriel did a good job for us at linebacker," he continued.

"Amanda has some of the best sophomores around. They are a real good young club," according to Colville.

THE ACES racked up 54 yards passing in the first half and 34 in the second. The visitors' total offense was 138 yards for the game.

Next week Logan Elm is at Teays Valley, the Vikings have a 1-1 record. The Braves have lost once and tied once in two starts.

Tigers Halt Vikings in 46-6 Tilt

CHS Capitalizes On Speed, Power

By STEVE JONES

The rampaging Tigers from Circleville High School rolled up a 46-6 decision over Teays Valley last night on the Viking field, picking up their second win of the season.

Tigers scored almost at will during the first three periods of the game. The Vikings were held without a touchdown until the final 30 seconds.

	C	TV
First downs rushing	13	5
First downs passing	1	2
First downs by penalty	0	1
Total first downs	14	8
Passes attempted	8	13
Passes completed	4	4
Net yards rushing	385	82

Total offense	465	123
Interceptions	0	0
Fumbles	4	4
Fumbles lost	3	4
Punts	9	5(28)
Total yards penalties	35	30

The host school's score came with the Circleville third string defensive unit in the game. Second string quarterback Don Daft carried the ball across the goal line for Teays Valley.

Mike Ramey was the leading scorer as he tallied on runs of 3, 17 and 6 yards. Danny Gibbs connected on two touchdown passes, one to Doug Pontious and the other to Tim Stonerock.

HOWARD DADE, the game's leading groundgainer, notched the first Tiger score with a 15-yard run. Steve Richardson, a tackle, picked up a blocked punt in the fourth quarter and raced into the end zone for the final Tiger tally.

Extra points were scored by Steve Dade and Mike Ramey. The Tigers won the toss of the coin at the outset and elected to receive.

On the very first play from scrimmage, Ramey skirted left end and romped 60 yards to the Viking 10-yard line before he was pulled down from behind.

Howard Dade had one touchdown run called back on a 5-yard illegal procedure penalty against the Tigers. But then he carried in from 15 yards out with the game less than a minute old.

A short low kick that followed that touchdown was recovered by a Circleville player on the Viking 25-yard line. On the next play, the Tigers lost a fumble to Teays Valley.

THE VIKINGS were unable to move against the Circleville defense. In the first quarter, they had 24 yards rushing and four passing.

In the second quarter, the Tiger defense held them to one yard rushing and four passing. They had only two first downs — one by rushing and one by pass interference in the first half.

In the third quarter Teays Valley picked up 70 yards on a sparkling kickoff return by Rick Brown who finally was pulled down from behind on the Circleville 10-yard line. However, the Vikings were unable to capitalize on that opportunity as the visitors held for downs.

After the first Circleville score, the Vikings were able to contain the Tiger attack fairly well in the first period.

It ended with the score standing at 6-0. The second quarter saw the Tigers come alive for two touchdowns. The first was scored by Ramey on a three yard plunge, capping a drive that started on the Circleville 43.

The second score of the period came when Gibbs hit Pontious with a pass in the end zone. The play covered 13 yards and climaxed a 50-yard drive.

FOR THE Vikings, the third quarter proved to be almost too much.

In that period the Tigers scored three times. Ramey shrugged off three tacklers in a 17-yard romp across the goal line. He gained 57 yards all told in the drive.

The next time Circleville got the ball the Red and Black went nearly the length of the field in two plays. A 15-yard penalty helped them pick up the touchdown yardage.

Hodgie Dade ran from the Circleville seven to the Teays Valley 39, taking a pitchout from Gibbs and going around right end behind a bevy of blockers.

A personal foul penalty gave the Tigers a first down on the Viking 24 yard stripe.

And Gibbs, the left handed junior quarterback, hit Stonerock with a pass that covered the remaining distance to the goal line. This pushed the score to 32-0.

THE NEXT TD came with just 23 seconds to go in the third quarter. Dade gained 50 yards in a 59 yard drive and Ramey carried the last six. Steve Dade scored the two extra points and the quarter ended with the score, 40-0.

In the final period, the Vikings contained the Circleville third string offense fairly well.

The defense put the rush on Teays Valley punter Richard Hay, blocking the kick, and Richardson never slowed down as he grabbed the blocked punt and headed for pay dirt.

The Teays Valley scoring drive covered 58 yards, with two passes accounting for nearly half the distance.

The rest of the yardage the Vikings ground out on the ground with Daft sneaking over from the one yard line.

It was the third gridiron battle between the Vikings and the Tigers. All three have been won by Circleville.

Tiger Pointers

"We made a lot of mistakes again tonight," Paul Starr, CHS coach said after the game. "We had four touchdowns called back because of penalties."

"We thought Danny Gibbs did a real fine job." He has been out all week with scarlet fever and didn't get to a single practice," Starr explained.

"We were also real proud of sophomore quarterback, Steve Dade. He had some bad luck and was in there when a couple of those touchdowns were called back."

"Our first string defense was terrific," Starr enthused. (In the first three quarters the unit gave up only 44 yards).

"I think they have a real good football team," Starr said of Teays Valley. "They will win some games this year."

The Tiger coach was echoing the thoughts of a Viking assistant, Mark Albright, who said, "We're a lot better than that score."

Last week Teays Valley beat Walnut Ridge, 12-6. The Scots are a member of the tough Columbus City League.

There were more than 3,000 people packed into the TV grid arena. Bleacher capacity there is 3,000 and there was scarcely an empty seat to be found. In addition, many fans lined the field.

Illinois Is 'Mystery Team'

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Dick Butkus & Company mainly are gone, so this is what Coach Pete Elliott calls a mystery football season at the University of Illinois.

The puzzling Illini open here Saturday against Oregon State. Super linebacker Butkus led the Illini to Rose Bowl victory after the 1963 season, but Elliott's "outstanding senior group" fell slightly on its face trying to retain the Big Ten title in 1964, tying for fourth with a 4-3 record.

At any rate, 20 lettermen—including Butkus and virtually both entire offensive and defensive lines—graduated from the Illini powerhouse of the past two seasons.

While only 12 lettermen return—including lanky Don Hansen trying to make like Butkus as middle linebacker—the lowly rated Illini may pack considerable punch.

Back is the entire 1964 backfield, including one of the nation's outstanding fullbacks, 211-pound Jim Grabowski—enhanced by Olympic sprinter Trenton Jackson and two touted sophomore backs, Cyril Pinder and Ron Bess.

"Grabowski may find the holes a little smaller this season, but he'll find them," said Elliott of the explosive 1964 Big Ten rushing leader.

Elliott will have eight sophomore starters and no fewer than 19 soph on his two offensive and two defensive units.

If the offensive line, including a 281-pound sophomore tackle, Willis Fields from Modesto, Calif., can jell, the Illini attack could be stinging with a 200-pound average backfield.

Besides Grabowski, 204-pound Sam Price is back as one of the Big Ten's biggest and most versatile fullbacks. Quarterback Fred Custardo, a seasoned senior like Grabowski and Price, is an effective passer and last season was the second busiest ball-carrier behind Grabowski.

Ron Acks, regular halfback last year, has switched to safety, leaving sophomores Bess, 191, and Pinder, 201, competing as Price's running mate.

RINGER OFFICIALS — Three of the men heading up the local Ringer Roundup look over an array of trophies that will be awarded during the next week. The tournament officials are, left to right: John Wilkes, tournament manager; Pete Arledge, secretary; and Ray Goodman, president.

World Softball Tourney Opens

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Detroit opened its defense at the World Softball Championship with a 1-0 victory over Memphis Friday night.

Detroit right-hander Bill MacGrath gave up a single to lead-off hitter Stennis Cain on the first pitch of the game and then held Memphis hitless the rest of the way.

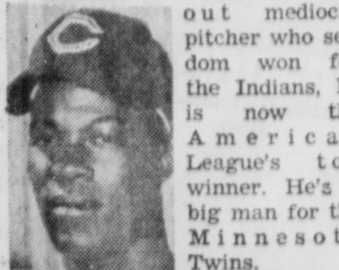

The seven-time world champion Clearwater Bombers defeated Lansing, Mich., 5-0.

Top Qualifying Record Set In Annual Ringer Roundup

A record score was set Thursday night in the qualifying rounds for the annual Pickaway County Ringer Roundup at the Fairgrounds courts.

Jim Knisley, a slender young ringer flinger from Bremen, had a 266. He tossed 84 per cent ringers.

He broke a record Bob Redding of Louisville held for a scant two nights. Redding, also pitching 84 per cent ringers, had a 264.

More than 65 hopefuls have entered the local tournament, considered one of the largest of its kind in Central Ohio.

TOURNAMENT manager John Wilkes reported only seven classes had been planned originally. But the field will now be expanded to include everybody who qualifies.

"Some of these boys drive a long way to enter this tournament," Wilkes explained. "We're going to give everybody interested a chance to pitch and win a trophy."

In addition to the trophy that will go to the horseshoe pitcher with the highest qualifying score, trophies will be awarded to the top four places in each class.

Finals will begin Monday and will last more than a week. Starting time each day for the pitch offs is 5 p. m. Some of the best horseshoe pitchers in the state, including former junior world champion Gary Roberts of Waverly, are entered in the local event.

Twins Nearer AL Pennant

Magic Number Reduced to 5

By THE ASSOCIATED P

The Minnesota Twins have reduced their magic number to five and ace right-hander Camilo Pascual has lifted his to nine. Despite a 2-1, 10-inning loss to Washington, the Twins reduced their magic pennant-clinching number to five as the Baltimore Orioles lost to California by the same score.

But the Twins' biggest lift may have come from the performance by Pascual.

Pascual struck out 13 — a season high for the Twins — and surrendered only five hits and one run, the Senators scoring when he temporarily lost his control in the third inning, walking two batters and uncorking a wild pitch before Frank Howard singled.

The Senators scored the winning run in the 10th against Jim Merritt when Fred Valentine beat out a hit to deep short Ken Hamlin moved him around to third with a single and Don Lock bounced a bad-hop single over the head of third baseman Rich Tollins.

Still, the Twins closed in on their first American League pennant as the Orioles lost. Any combination of Minnesota victories and Baltimore defeats totaling five will bring the Twins the pennant.

The other games in the AL also were decided by one run with the Chicago White Sox edging Cleveland 5-4 in 11 innings, Detroit nipping the New York Yankees 4-3 in 10 innings and Kansas City outlasting Boston 8-7.

In the National League, Milwaukee crushed San Francisco, 9-1, Cincinnati downed Houston 4-2, Los Angeles edged St. Louis 3-2 and Pittsburgh shut out Philadelphia 4-0. Chicago and New York were not scheduled.

Tribe Takes Look at New Right-Hander

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mahager Birdie Tebbetts got a look at another Indian pitching hopeful Friday night when Tom Kelley, 21, made his major league debut against the Chicago White Sox.

The right-hander, who won 16 games for the Tribe's Portland club this season, turned in a creditable performance despite some wildness. He struck out nine in the seven innings he worked, but gave up five hits, walked three batters and last season was charged with one wild pitch.

Kelley went out for a pinch hitter in the eighth with the score tied 2-2. The three relievers who followed him couldn't hold the White Sox, and Chicago wound up with a 5-4 victory in 11 innings.

The Sox broke the tie in the eighth, when Don McMahon gave up a walk and a single. Moose Skowron drove in the run with a sacrifice fly. Chicago got another run off McMahon in the ninth, but the Indians bounced back with two runs to tie the score and send the game into extra innings.

It was a pinch home run by Leon Wagner with two out that tied the score for the Tribe. Wagner's 27th homer also scored Pedro Gonzalez, who had singled.

Chuck Taylor, an all America football guard for Stanford in 1942, now is the university's athletic director.

Peking Claims

"This whole thing is in collusion with Pakistan," Nehru said of the Chinese threat.

"The present effect of their action is to help Pakistan keep our army tied up. I do not think they want territory. Their aim is to disrupt India."

The U.N. Security Council scheduled a meeting today to consider Thant's proposal for possible economic and military reprisals against both India and Pakistan if they continue fighting.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, president of the council this month, said the India-Pakistan fighting "is perhaps the most serious conflict between member states of the United Nations of which this organization has ever been seized."

Addressing the Washington Conference for World Peace Through Law Friday night, Goldberg said, "Two nations with more than half a billion people are confronting each other — are conducting military operations against each other — on land, on sea and in the air, and are little short of the point which could be called full-scale war."

He did not predict what action the Security Council might take, but said there is an overriding necessity to achieve a halt in the fighting.

ATHENS (AP) — American and Soviet space fliers brushed aside their official guides today and set up their own private breakfast talk.

By the time the 90-minute huddle was over they were on a first-name basis and talking about the Beatles.

Soviet cosmonauts Pavel Beliyev and Alexei Leonov joined U.S. astronauts L. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Charles Conrad Jr. in Cooper's hotel room overlooking the Acropolis.

An American official at the breakfast said there was a general exchange of miscellaneous information "like you always have when fliers get together. There was nothing substantive, nothing about future plans such as moon flight, no probing. Just pleasant talk."

BALTIMORE (AP) — The neighborhood pool hall, sometimes regarded as a hangout for the underprivileged, is aiding the war on poverty in East Baltimore.

Randolph Tucker's Emporium is the temporary headquarters for Helen Odom, a neighborhood counselor in Baltimore's anti-poverty program. Tucker offered his place as a base of operations, pending the opening of a permanent neighborhood center.

Mrs. Odom and two assistants meet there daily to plan their agenda before conducting household visits. They say they find the atmosphere "friendly and relaxing."

War Hero Surrenders On Kidnap Accusation

ORRINGTON, Maine (AP) — The Korean war hero accused of holding a prominent surgeon's wife captive for 22 hours surrendered meekly to state troopers Friday night.

Roger R. Haller, 31, of Bangor was found unarmed, wrapped in a blanket, beneath a picnic table outside a camp on one of the Belgrade lakes in central Maine.

Haller, a Paterson, N.J., native, who won the Silver Star and Purple Heart in Korea, fled a state mental hospital a week ago today.

After his capture, he was taken to Bangor where County Atty. Howard M. Foley said he would be arraigned in District Court Monday on a charge of kidnapping Lynne P. McGinn, 29, from her home here Thursday night.

Haller left Dr. John F. McGinn's station wagon near Belgrade about five hours before he was found by troopers, and Mrs. McGinn drove on until she met state police.

The tall, slender mother of two told police she was "totally unharmed in any way" although Haller, who had a .32-caliber pistol, had threatened her once or twice in a wild ride at speeds up to 100 miles an hour.

In an exclusive interview with The Associated Press, Mrs. McGinn, a comely blonde, told this story:

Haller appeared at her door about 10:30 a.m. Thursday, identifying himself as "the escapee from the Bangor hospital."

"I said, 'You're kidding, aren't you?' because he had this big grin on his face. Then I saw the gun."

For several hours Haller stayed in the house or on the grounds, drinking her 36-year-old husband's liquor.

Late in the afternoon, the doctor brought the couple's daughter, Stacey, 4, home from nursery school and found Haller holding the family's deer rifle along with the pistol.

On the pretext of an emergency case at the hospital, Dr. Mc-

Ginn left the house and went to the police.

"About five minutes later," said Mrs. McGinn, "Haller said to me 'Come on, let's go.' I asked if I could get my shoes and he let me."

Mrs. McGinn said Haller drove 80 to 100 miles an hour going to Bucksport where they crossed the Penobscot River minutes before a roadblock went up.

At Augusta, Haller heard a radio report about more roadblocks, "so then he headed for the Belgrade area," which is about 60 miles west of Orrington.

That night, they stayed in the car on a woods road. Mrs. McGinn got a little sleep.

About 5:30 p.m. Friday in the same general area, Haller got out of the car, and Mrs. McGinn drove on to a state police roadblock.

— yes, that they will attack," he told newsmen.

"This whole thing is in collusion with Pakistan," Nehru said of the Chinese threat.

"The present effect of their action is to help Pakistan keep our army tied up. I do not think they want territory. Their aim is to disrupt India."

The U.N. Security Council scheduled a meeting today to consider Thant's proposal for possible economic and military reprisals against both India and Pakistan if they continue fighting.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, president of the council this month, said the India-Pakistan fighting "is perhaps the most serious conflict between member states of the United Nations of which this organization has ever been seized."

Addressing the Washington Conference for World Peace Through Law Friday night, Goldberg said, "Two nations with more than half a billion people are confronting each other — are conducting military operations against each other — on land, on sea and in the air, and are little short of the point which could be called full-scale war."

He did not predict what action the Security Council might take, but said there is an overriding necessity to achieve a halt in the fighting.

FOPA To Sponsor Screening For Pumpkin Show Talent

James P. Shea, program director for the Pumpkin Show, announced today a talent contest is being added to the events of the big four-day festival. Tentative date for the show, according to Shea, will be on Thursday evening of the Pumpkin Show.

In order that only top grade talent will be presented, Shea noted, the Circleville Fraternal Order of Police Associates (FOPA) will sponsor a screening contest Oct. 2 at the Circleville High School auditorium, beginning 6 p. m.

Qualified judges are being selected for the screening contest. Top acts will then perform for prizes in the Talent show during Pumpkin Show.

A NOMINAL fee will be charged for admission to the screening and children under 12 will be admitted free.

Rules for the contest are: 1. open to any contestant who is a resident of Pickaway County between the ages of 12 and 17; 2. there will be four classifications of acts — solo, duets, trios, and acts composed of four or more persons; 3. a contestant is permitted to perform in only one act; 4. all acts will be limited to 2½ minutes; 5. all entries must be in no later than Sept. 25; all acts in the screening contest must report to the CHS auditorium no later than 5:30 p. m. on the day of the contest.

Interested persons are to complete the following blank and return it to James P. Shea at the Pickaway County Courthouse, before next Saturday.
